

CASE STUDY

COMPLEX LITIGATION: CONSTRUCTION

“I have held Esquire in high regard for many years, but gained an added appreciation when Esquire was selected to handle one of the largest civil construction cases pending in the U.S. Esquire’s commitment to current technology is backed by strong technical support and top-notch court reporters who meet their deadlines. This makes Esquire an invaluable resource.”

– Jeffery A. Garofalo, Partner, Lee, Hernandez, Landrum, Garofalo, Blake

Case Summary

Construction Defect lawsuit seeking $8.5 Billion due to the alleged lack of constructability of the design, negligent third party building inspection and improper installation of steel reinforcements.

Over 900 parties involved across the country. Esquire has been involved in hundreds of real time depositions in the case, providing video and fully-interactive remote participant access.

The Challenge:

The case required coordinating complex litigation support services for multiple parties in several jurisdictions, including the sharing of documents in a quick, secure and easy manner.

WHY ESQUIRE?

- Seamless case management.
Esquire provided each party with dedicated case managers, a customized web portal and a personalized client management plan for special requests.
- Deposition support for 900+ parties nationwide.
Esquire’s 25 years of industry experience is supported by a seasoned management team, knowledgeable court reporters and more than 45 offices in major cities across the country.
- Technology infrastructure to manage and share three million pages of documents between parties.
EsquireShare, a powerful litigation repository, was used to seamlessly provide secure online access to transcripts, exhibits and video.
- Portable video conferencing.
Esquire provided complete access to more than 175 depositions for remote attendees. Participants logged in from multiple locations via any Internet-connected device, including the iPad!
- Secure online case portal for more efficient deposition management.
Depositions were scheduled in moments with immediate email confirmation using EsquireConnect. Parties were also able to share case calendars, notifications of settings and changes, and review and pay invoices online.

ESQUIRE
DEPOSITION SOLUTIONS

One call or click to schedule anywhere
1.800.211.DEPO or www.esquiresolutions.com