

Esquire Deposition Solutions Offices Status for In-office Proceedings As of September 1, 2020

While we instituted a work-from-home policy, we have kept most of our offices open, jurisdiction-permitting, to help you keep your litigation calendar on track. Refer to the chart below for the current status of an Esquire location accepting in-office proceedings. Esquire will schedule in-office proceedings in cities not listed on the attached chart through our network of conference room providers where permitted by state or local laws. Esquire also continues to offer on-line services for some or all participants for your next proceeding.
